

Do You Have A High School Reunion Coming Up?

Consider Showing A Reunion Montage

Video slideshows bring the group together and stimulate conversations with friends who you may have lost contact with over the years.

How To Collect Everything To Create A Video

- Scan the pictures of the senior class photos from the yearbook along with selected pictures used throughout the yearbook of the senior class.
- When you send out invitations request class members to send or email pictures of them and their family over the years. Also request pictures or video they may have taken during school years or past reunions. Set a cut off date for them to get them to you. Separate pictures in envelopes or digital pictures in computer files by student name.
- Have the students send short one or two line comments of their memories of high school. Include these comments in the envelop or computer file under students name. These comments can be used as titles for your video.
- Select music for presentation from the year you graduated.
